Environmental Studies

Haverford, Bryn Mawr and Swarthmore colleges cooperate to offer a TriCollege Environmental Studies Interdisciplinary Minor, involving departments and faculty from the natural sciences, the social sciences, the humanities and the arts.

Types of Courses: The Environmental Studies minor consists of two types of courses
• required courses: ENVS 101 Case Studies in Environmental Issues and ENVS397 Senior Seminar in Environmental Studies,
• elective courses in a variety of areas organized into two categories: A) Environmental Science and Engineering and B) Environment and Society.

First-year students interested in Environmental Studies are advised to take ENVS 101 at either Haverford or Bryn Mawr College

Haverford College
ENVS 101  Case Studies in Environmental Issues    Jonathan Wilson
MW 1130-1pm              Steven Smith

Bryn Mawr College
ENVS B101  Introduction to Environmental Studies    Donald Barber
TTH 12:55pm-2:15pm (Spring 2017)    Michael Rock

If a student is unable to take ENVS 101 in their freshman year or is not successful in the lottery, they will have further opportunities to take it in their sophomore or junior year.

First-year students may also consider any 100-level class (or non-prereq class) from the Environmental Studies elective course list, which can be found on the Haverford College Environmental Studies web page: https://www.haverford.edu/environmentalstudies/
